

Lynn S. Dombrowski
Human-Computer Interaction Design
Indiana University, School of Informatics
919 E. 10th Street
Bloomington, IN 47408
lsdombro@indiana.edu

Education:	Indiana University - Bloomington (IU) GPA 3.9 MS Human-Computer Interaction Design Anticipated Graduation Date Spring 2010
	<hr/>
	University of Wisconsin - Stevens Point (UWSP) GPA 3.35 BS Computer Information Systems (CIS), Web and Digital Media Development - Technical Focus (WDMD) Graduated Spring 2008
Design Skills:	Usability Testing, Ethnographic Observation, Affinity Diagramming, Contextual Inquiry, Prototyping, Sketching, Surveys, Focus Groups
Programming Languages:	C#, VB.Net, AS2, AS3, SQL, HTML, CSS
Tools:	Visual Studios, Pen and paper, Photoshop CS3, Flash CS3, Flex 2, Dreamweaver CS3
Educational Experience:	<hr/>
	Associate Instructor for I300, Human-Computer Interaction Fall 2008 - Present Assisted professor with the evaluations of students and general management of the class.
	<hr/>
	Student Researcher for Sharable User Interface Research Group Fall 2008 - Present Participated in the research group, focusing on table top technology and intercultural relationships.
	<hr/>
	Teaching Assistant for UWSP's WDMD 307, Multimedia Authoring 2007 - 2008 Lectured, graded, and created learning materials for an upper division course on Flash CS3, Flex 2, XML processing, and UI Design.
	<hr/>
	CIS Senior Project Spring 2007 Developed an ASP.NET 2.0 / VB.NET application and back-end structure, within a team of three, for a local insurance company. Application was built implementing stored procedures, database transactions, and ASP.NET 2.0 web controls.
	<hr/>
	WDMD's City University of London (CUL) Radio Project Spring 2007 Developed a Flash-based web radio project and backend structure for CUL. Project involved Flash, ASP.NET, web services, and MS SQL 2005.
Work Experience:	<hr/>
	Nursing Assistant-2 for Wisconsin Veterans Home (WVH) 2001 - 2008 Provided direct care for members of the WVH.

Transcripts and References Available Upon Request.